Design

Blending an engineer's sense of functionality and an artist's appreciation of form, his contemporary take on traditional design melds perfectly with Drummonds' classic, handmade luxury bathrooms.

Inspirational

The traditional form of the freestanding bath is acknowledged, and then subtly altered, as Victorian ornament is refined to a more abstract, modern form, allowing for a masterclass in ergonomics. Symmetrical on the outside, the Tyburn has an asymmetric interior with two differently-shaped ends; one sloped for reclining and one more upright for sitting up or reading.

Beauty

Its subtly scooped edge creates a comfortable headrest for bathers to relax their heads onto when immersed in water. The Tyburn uses modern composite marble casting to achieve its sweeping architectural curves & uniquely silky finish.

Elegant

Stripping the vanity basin of traditional pomp & ceremony, Martin Brudnizki has conceived this piece with simplicity in mind. Elegant, light and modern, it uses classic white marble and brassware in a pared-back design.

Detail

Behind its contemporary lines lie functional considerations too, including good storage space for bathroom accessories and small, yet perfectly formed details such as the bent recess in the towel rail which ensures that the towel stays in place.

Style

Drummonds' distinctive style is clean, crisp and luxurious, perfect for both contemporary & period settings.

Symmetry

Vintage luxe is channeled in this versatile bathroom light. The two symmetrical reeded glass shades are pinched in the middle creating a bow shape which can be used horizontally or vertically.

Unique

The glass is hand blown and the metalwork is hand fabricated, making each light a unique piece.

Proportions

A perfectly proportioned mirror
with a classic bevel.
